Washington Squad Leaves Chicago Under Cantillon.

TWENTY PLAYERS ON HAND

Manager of Local Team Satisfied that He Has Good List of Players at Washington; Saturday, October for American League Pennant.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Chicago, March 3.-Chicago was the rendezvous of the Washington baseball team to-day. National players piled into town until just an even twenty were here. Joe Kelley does not seem to be worried in the least over the holding out of Jack Thoney. Joe and Jack were the bli moguls on the Toronto team last year and it was their combined efforts more than anything else that won the pennant for the Canadian city.

Peter J. Noonan, the former Holy Cross catcher, has received his release from the St. Louis Nationals. Noonan had played with the St. Louis club last season, and he was about to leave for the training quarters at Houston, when he received

"Policemen have to be transferred from one place to another," he said, "at the risk of weakening the places from which they are taken. Men may be detailed and meet the requirements presented to us. It has been a fault of those who argue against making any increase in the local police force that we have not a munipality here, like elsewhere. We have a territory to contend with here in Washington, not a municipality. Other cities have municipalities. The territory of the District of Columbia embraces more than sixty-nine square miles, and includes 329,000 people.
